Timber receipts from harvests on Federal land were once the County's largest source of revenue, and are part of most services you receive, including Public Safety, Veterans, Public Health and Senior Services. The Federal Safety Net (Secure Rural Schools Program), replaced revenues from actual timber harvests beginning in 2000. On October 1, 2015, the Secure Rural Schools Program (Federal Safety Net) expired. Since then, Douglas County has been operating on reserves and actual timber receipts that have dramatically declined. Even though county spending has been reduced each year, the county has had to use reserve funds to maintain critical services. The reserve funds are declining rapidly.
